Criminal History

A review of files of the Chicago Division reflects the following concerning the subject:

In connection with a case entitled, "JOE ETO, Aka ET AL - EUGITIVE, ITSP", subject as JOE ETO was apprehended by Bureau Agents on February 14, 1950, in the pool hall located at 1136 North Clark Street, Chicago, and he was subsequently turned over to local authorities for trial in State Court at Pocatello, Idaho, where he was accused of having participated in the swindle of [redacted] in the amount of $5,000.00 as the result of a confidence game. ETO reportedly obtained $5,000.00 from [redacted] toward purchase of a box, which was then said to be in the possession of another individual, which box was inferred by ETO to be of great value but contained only candy bars. Authorized complaint and warrant issued for ETO on January 14, 1950, charging violation of Title 18, Section 2315, United States Code, was subsequently dismissed in favor of local prosecution when ETO expressed a desire to be tried by State Court and refused to plead guilty under Rule 20.

b7c

The following information concerning the subject was developed in the course of investigation entitled, "RADIO STATION WEAW, EVANSTON, ILLINOIS, ET AL, BROADCASTING LOTTERY INFORMATION":

CG 92-671

A numbers game, commonly known as Bolita, is played by many members of the Spanish-speaking community in Chicago. It was rumored that this lottery was operated by members of the Chinese community in Chicago, although it catered primarily to Puerto Ricans. Reportedly approximately 1,000 runners, mostly Puerto Ricans, were employed in this gambling activity and these runners usually accepted bets at numerous grocery stores catering to the Spanish-speaking community. A different three digit number wins each day and normally a winner learns the winning number by asking the runner on the following day after the number is drawn. However, for a time during 1960-1961, the winning numbers were announced on Radio Station WEAW in a Spanish language program. [REDACTED]

b6

[REDACTED] One JOE MONTANA, believed to be identical with KEN ETO, then residing 33 East Cedar Street, Chicago, reportedly was the partner of [REDACTED] in this Bolita activity.

The Bolita operation is reported to have existed in Chicago for several years and it is rumored in the Puerto Rican colony that several Puerto Ricans have been killed in "gangland style" because they talked to authorities about Bolita or attempted to "muscle into" the operation.

Persons who are known or rumored to have announced winning Bolita numbers on the radio in the past are as follows:

advised that this game operates in a similar manner to "numbers" in that a bettor places any amount of money from one penny up on a three digit number he has selected. One drawing is held each day and the winning number pays off at a rate of 500 to 1. At the time of the drawing, ten small plastic balls, numbered 0 through 9, are placed in a small lattice-type drum. One ball is drawn out and its number recorded. This ball is then returned to the drum and a second number is drawn. After the second number is returned, the third and final digit is drawn and recorded.

According to [redacted] there was at that time only one "Bolita" game in operation in Chicago, and tickets for this game were being sold throughout the city. [redacted] advised that this game originated in Puerto Rico sometime prior to World War II. He stated that there were approximately twenty districts in which Bolita was being played and these were supervised by district "managers", all of Puerto Rican extraction. Over these in command were four unknown orientals. The betting proceeds from each day were being turned over in each district to the district manager, who, in turn, delivered the money to his oriental superintendent. [redacted] advised that although he has no positive proof to substantiate his belief, he does believe that the four orientals mentioned above were under the control of one JOE MONTANA, who in turn worked for and reported to JAMES ALLEGRETTI, prominent Chicago underworld figure.

On [redacted] advised that his organization had been conducting an investigation of a Bolita gambling operation, which centered around a building located at 3460 Pennsylvania, East Chicago, Indiana. He advised that investigation reflected the following individuals appeared to be integrally involved in this Bolita operation:

- 1) "JOE", a resident of Illinois and the person to whom the Indiana Bolita operators were reportedly responsible. "JOE" is allegedly an oriental who does not have oriental features. "JOE" allegedly started with a small poker game and is now one of the criminal hierarchy. "JOE" possibly is KEN ETO, also known as JOE MONTANA.

It should be noted here that the above investigation failed to establish with certainty that KEN ETO is or was connected with the East Chicago, Indiana Bolita operation; at least he was never positively identified as the Japanese named "JOE", who is reputed to be the owner of both the East Chicago, Indiana and the Chicago, Illinois Bolita operations, although it is believed he is identical.

At any rate, the above investigation failed to reflect that ETO was openly connected with the Indiana operation during the preceding several months.

CG 92-671

An article appearing in the "Chicago Daily Tribune", dated November 6, 1962, reflected that a Bolita gambling game at 3460 Pennsylvania Avenue, East Chicago, Indiana, was raided on the previous day by Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Agents, who arrested three men and seized betting slips plus $1,100.00 in cash.

The three arrested were reported to be

[REDACTED] all of East Chicago, Indiana. The article reflected United States Commissioner WILBER J. GLENDENING at Hammond, Indiana, set bond for each at $1,000.00 on charges of accepting wagers without having Federal Wagering Occupational Tax Stamps. The article further reflected the agents said they found three other dealers at the location, but these individuals had purchased stamps.

AT GARY, INDIANA

[REDACTED] advised during November, 1962, that the reported Bolita headquarters for Gary, Indiana, is at 3460 Pennsylvania, East Chicago, Indiana, and was raided on November 4, 1962, by IRS, and the following individuals arrested as Bolita operators:

CG 92-671

The Chicago Office is currently conducting an investigation of a case entitled, "CADILLAC NUMBERS RACKET, Aka Clearing House Numbers Racket, IGA - NUMBERS LOTTERY", wherein it is reflected that investigation conducted by the Intelligence Division, Chicago Police Department, reflects that the Cadillac Numbers Racket is a lottery-type guessing game in which the winning numbers are determined by the published pari-mutuel handle of leading race tracks. Surveillances conducted by officers of the Intelligence Division indicate there is some relationship between the Cadillac Numbers Racket and various drop off spots, including the Rush Currency Exchange. However, to date no direct evidence has been established as to how funds are distributed from these drop off spots. Turn-in spots were being changed frequently and none of the operators of the turn-in spots or runners or writers have been positively identified by investigation to date. However, rumors circulated in the predominantly Negro area of this numbers activity indicated that KEN ETO is a "big shot" in the Cadillac Numbers Racket.

On January 25, 1963 [redacted] advised that [redacted] agents of the IRS and United States Marshal, conducted raids of several known locations of the "Cadillac Numbers Racket" on the afternoon and evening of January 24, 1963. The purpose of these raids was to obtain evidence and to subpoena [redacted] for appearance before the Federal Grand Jury in Chicago. [redacted] subpoenas were served at that time [redacted]

The following information was received from [REDACTED]

KEN ETO, an oriental of Japanese origin, is a well known Chicago north side bookmaker, who has been operating out of the Subway Pool Room, 1136 North Clark Street, Chicago, Illinois. ETO is also reportedly connected with the policy operations in the Chicago area and is alleged to be a front for various Chicago north side hoodlums such as ROSS PRIO, JAMES ALLEGRETTI, and others.

KEN ETO and [REDACTED] are reported to be attempting to set up a legal gambling operation in San Juan, Puerto Rico. During March, 1962, ETO and [REDACTED] made a trip to Puerto Rico where they were unsuccessful in their attempts to set up this operation. [REDACTED]

The San Juan Division further advised that on March 23, 1962 [REDACTED] was observed departing the LaConcha Hotel and proceeding to the Flamboyant Casino in San Juan, Puerto Rico, which is a legal casino in Puerto Rico. ETO [REDACTED] subsequently observed picking up [REDACTED] at the Flamboyant Casino and all three then continued in a cab to the Intermezzo Club, San Juan, Puerto Rico, where they remained for about an hour. [REDACTED] and ETO were observed looking over this building with the manager or part-owner, which is apparently undergoing construction in the upper and rear portion of the building.

[redacted] advised however, that at that time, an individual named [redacted] had an option to purchase the Intermezzo. ## FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 4/7/64

KEN ETO, residence at 8669 Josephine Avenue, Des Plaines, Illinois, was interviewed at the rear of his apartment building in a Bureau car. At the outset of this interview, ETO was advised that he did not have to make any statement, that any statement he makes can be used against him in a court of law, that he has the right to secure the services of an attorney prior to making any statement, and that no threats or promises would be made to induce him to make a statement. ETO was advised as to his right to an attorney by SA [redacted]

[redacted] At this time he furnished the following information:

ETO stated that he does not consider gambling activities of any nature as illegal, and he can account for every nickel he earns to Internal Revenue, whether this income is made from operation of the Cadillac Numbers Racket or any other gambling activity. He added, however, that he does not contribute a penny to narcotics or any stuff like that; in fact he pointed out that he is morally opposed to narcotics and anyone dealing in narcotics.

ETO stated that he definitely knows that there is nothing of an interstate nature in the operation of the Cadillac Numbers Racket. He explained that he would make sure that he never violated a Federal law whenever he engaged in any gambling activities. He emphasized that even if he is engaged in gambling activities at the present time, he is not doing so in violation of any Federal statute. ETO said that he respects the Federal Government and enjoys his freedom too much to risk a jail sentence by violating Federal law.

ETO said that he would talk about his associations with ROSS PRIO, "MONK" ALLEGRETTI, MIKE GLITTA and other persons alleged to be part of the near north side underworld group when he is 90 years old and lying on some beach sunning himself. Then, he would discuss "the old days" and his associations with these people. He refused to pursue any further conversation regarding his associations, stating that this subject could not help him any.

ETO remarked at first that he is employed as a cook. However, when asked as to the location of his employment, he refused to answer on the ground that his answer might tend to incriminate him. He repeatedly mentioned during this interview that he would not say anything about his own activities. For this reason, he would not furnish any specific details as to the operation of Cadillac Numbers, although he stated that the operation is definitely local and not interstate.

ETO added that he has been employed at Valentino's Restaurant, but he stated that he could not recall whether he was so employed in September of 1957.

At end of this interview, ETO stated that he did not wish to stay any longer, even though no further information is sought by the interviewing agents. He explained that he has sat in cars with police officers before, and officers can obtain information and admissions just by observing the facial reactions of the person they talk to. He said he would furnish no further information at this time.

Following is a description of ETO as obtained from observation and interrogation:

AT CHICAGO, ILLINOIS. Will continue to conduct logical investigation to determine if the subject is acting in violation of law.

ADMINISTRATIVE

It is recognized that the investigative period of this report is lengthy; however, it is pointed out that the subject is allegedly the behind-the-scenes supervisor of a Bolita gambling operation in Chicago and environs for the organized crime syndicate and all positive information concerning subject's participation in this gambling activity is being reported under the substantive case concerning Bolita. In view of the fact that investigation of ETO during this investigative period has resulted in very little information other than his possible involvement in the aforementioned Bolita activity, it is felt that an earlier submission of a report would have been for status purposes only.

DETAILS:

On [redacted] advised that [redacted] is involved in a Bolita gambling operation.

On [redacted] advised [redacted] drives a white, 1963 Cadillac, bearing 1966 Illinois license number [redacted]. According to source [redacted] drives this auto when picking up Bolita gambling bets. On [redacted] advised that [redacted] picks up Bolita bets at a Puerto Rican grocery store, known as Save More Super Mart, 1950 North Sedgwick, Chicago, every day at about 3:00 to 3:30 p.m. Source advised that runners turn in their bets at this small grocery store and [redacted] thereafter picks them up. [redacted] advised [redacted] remains in this store for a very short period of time in most instances, and thereafter makes pickups at other unknown locations. Source was unable to furnish the location where the drawing is presently being held; however, he stated several years ago he observed the drawing in the basement of a club at Goethe and Clark Streets, where he met KEN ETO.

[redacted] advised that KEN ETO is in charge and operates the Bolita gambling in Chicago on behalf of the "outfit." He related Bolita is an extremely profitable gambling operation and one of the leading money makers in gambling in Chicago. Source advised KEN ETO is growing very rapidly in stature in the Chicago organized crime element.

He stated ETO owns about six establishments in the Rush Street area of Chicago, all of which are operated by "front men." He related he knows that ETO owns Tony Paris' Show Lounge, Bourbon Street night club and the El Greco Steak House.

Source further advised ETO once told him he was raised by a Mexican family and, as a result, ETO loves to eat hot Mexican food and can speak Spanish fluently.

On [redacted] advised hoodlum JAMES ALLEGRETTI, who is currently confined to the penitentiary at Terre Haute, Indiana, continues to receive considerable income from the following establishments which are being fronted for him in the Rush Street area of Chicago: The Velvet Swing, Bourbon Street, Tony Paris' Show Lounge and My Place.

b7D

This source stated KEN ETO is JAMES ALLEGRETTI's right hand man who looks after the management of some of these clubs, namely Bourbon Street, The Velvet Swing, and Tony Paris' Show Lounge.

b6

On December 21, 1966, [redacted] Intelligence Unit, Chicago Police Department advised that his department had conducted considerable investigation of Bolita gambling operations in Chicago and had determined that in 1962-1963 KEN ETO and [redacted] were believed to be travelling from Chicago to a Bolita operation in East Chicago, Indiana, where they were handling matters for the Chicago crime "syndicate." He stated that due to the "heat" generated in connection with the overall investigation relating to Bolita and organized crime, ETO and [redacted] discontinued their direct connection with this operation. He related these individuals apparently felt that they would become involved in a violation of a Federal Gambling Statute and, therefore, disassociated themselves from any direct connection with the operation. [redacted] reportedly took over the operation so far as the "outfit" connection was concerned. He related [redacted] lived in [redacted] Indiana, and handled any business concerning the operation within the State of Indiana.

CG 92-671

On [redacted] advised that some friends of his went to the El Greco Steak House on Chicago's near North side on [redacted]. He related his friends were introduced there to [redacted]. [redacted] were then introduced by [redacted] to "JOE THE JAP" as "the real guy that owned the joint." [redacted] is of the opinion "JOE THE JAP" is identical with KEN ETO. According to source ETO told [redacted] "Everybody thinks he has a piece of this joint." [redacted] subsequently told [redacted] that "JOE THE JAP" owned the Golden 8 Ball Billiard Parlor and the Bourbon Street night club, as well as several other joints.

b2
b6
b7C
b7D

[redacted] later came into El Greco's at which time [redacted] called [redacted] over. [redacted] sat down and had a couple of drinks with [redacted] after the introductions had been made. [redacted] subsequently picked up the tab for the table and left stating "You can't buy a drink in my place." [redacted] was then observed to walk over to the cash register where he made some kind of notation on check for the drinks.

[redacted] KEN ETO [redacted] are Orientals who play a prominent part in the operation of the Bolita gambling racket. [redacted] stated ETO is primarily interested in the near North side of Chicago and he operates night clubs in that area.

b7D

b7C
b7D

Source stated ETO was also in this club on Saturday night, February 4, 1967. [redacted] further related ETO was still in Los Angeles on February 6, 1967; however, he did not know where ETO was residing while there.

CG 92-671

[redacted] stated he is of the opinion ETO's trip to Los Angeles was to purchase a pop art film, known as the LSD Review, which is currently being shown at the Losers. Source related that some forms were taken to [redacted] [redacted] on February 6, 1967, which had to do with the sale of the above mentioned film to ETO. The "LSD Review," which is being shown nightly at The Losers, consists of three different films being shown on a sheer drapery which is drawn around a stage. Behind the drapery, on the stage, is a topless dancer dancing to psychedelic music. The three films, each one of which is projected on different sides of the drapery, were filmed in such a manner as to produce a hallucinatory effect. The figures in the film consist entirely of topless dancers, performing to the same type of music as the live dancer.

The film lasts approximately ten minutes and is a satire on the use of LSD. During the movie, a male person gives the audience a few clinical facts about the drug and the manner in which it has effected different individuals. Neither the movie or any portion of the show encourages the use of LSD. On the contrary, it points out the number of persons who are permanently damaged by the drug and the large percentage of persons in mental hospitals as a direct result of its use. The movie is on a 16 mm reel and without sound. It was produced by the management of The Losers at a cost of $65.00.

The Losers Club has been a "topless" club for approximately one year. Prior to this, The Losers Club was patronized by gamblers, bookmakers, prostitutes, and petty burglars. It was also noticed at this time that many out-of-town hoodlums were patronizing the club. At this same time, [redacted]

[redacted] appeared on the scene. [redacted] through his association with gamblers, bookmakers, and prostitutes out of The Losers Club, came under investigation by the National Football League, which investigation resulted in [redacted]

When The Losers started the topless dancing routine many of the hoodlums quit patronizing the club, as it became an establishment for the "square" males and out-of-town visitors to observe the show.

Synopsis: On 1/15/68, Chicago Police Department executed search warrant for subject's residence, 1034 Granville, Park Ridge, Illinois, and seized therefrom records believed to be connected with Bolita gambling operation. ETO, who was not at home when search conducted, was arrested by Police Department on 1/18/68 for his participation in illegal Bolita gambling operation. Police Department also conducted series of raids and arrested eleven individuals on 1/15/68 in connection with this Bolita operation, which raids resulted in confiscation of voluminous records, which reportedly reflect identity of several Chicago Police Officers who were receiving payoffs from operators of racket, as well as giving an indication of the extent or daily take of the operation.

DETAILS:

On [redacted] advised that the Chicago Police Department had conducted a series of raids on the same date in connection with a local Bolita gambling operation. He stated that several searches were conducted in connection with these raids, and voluminous records were seized, which indicated the extent of the flourishing of this Bolita gambling racket in the Chicago area and the identity of several police officers who apparently were being paid off by the operators of the racket. Source related some of these records were confiscated from the home of KEN ETO, 1034 Granville, Park Ridge, Illinois, where a search warrant was executed by the raiding officers, even though ETO was not found to be at home when the police officers conducted their search.

MILLION A YEAR BOLITA RING HIT; ARREST 11

Chicago-Aurora Bets Run by Syndicate

BY JOHN O'BRIEN

Detectives of the police intelligence unit struck yesterday at the operations of a one-million-dollar-a-year Chicago-Aurora bolita gambling racket controlled by crime syndicate gangsters.

In a series of midday raids, the detectives under Capt. William Duffy, police intelligence director, arrested 10 men. They were described as payoff figures and runners for the lottery. The raiders also seized nearly $20,000 in cash and large quantities of betting records.

Nab 11th in Aurora

An 11th man was arrested by Aurora police. The Federal Bureau of Investigation also participated in the case.

In one of the Chicago raids, detectives led by Sgt. Lou Cantone seized $10,000 in alleged bolita wagers with the arrest of Thomas (Mitch) Yoshii, 44, of 3157 Orchard st. Yoshii, described as a leader in the racket, was seized in his car at Broadway and Stratford place.

Cantone said that Yoshii is a lieutenant to Ken Eto, 48, of 1034 Cranville av., Park Ridge. Eto, also being sought, was described as the chief liaison man between mobsters and the Puerto Rican operators of the game. He takes his orders directly from two gang bosses, Fiore (Fifi) Buccieri and Ross Prio, according to police.

Seize Betting Records

Detectives raided Eto's home with a search warrant and seized a number of bolita betting records. In a dresser drawer they found newspaper clippings describing Eto's previous brushes with the law.

Others arrested were Pedro Hernandez, 40, of 723 Buckingham pl., whose apartment was described as a depository for bolita wagers; Bienvenido Quiles, 44, and Francisco Caban, 47, both of Aurora; Felix Irrizarry, 55, of 2502 Flournoy st.; Frank Giammarese, 39, of 4045 Lincoln av., a janitor at Waller High school; Francisco Quinones, 37, of 2645 Cermak rd.; Fernando Garza, 31, of 2010 23d st.; Pablo Rivera, 42, of 624 N. Kedzie av.; and Puro Pinzon, 49, of 820 Buckingham pl.

Seized with Revolver

Pinzon was seized with a loaded revolver in his hand as he opened an appliance store at 3329 N. Halsted. Police said it serves as a collection station for bets. Detectives said that until two years ago Pinzon operated independently of the gangsters in a bolita racket, but since then has been reduced by the mobsters to a $300 a week liaison man.

Aurora police led by Lt. Alex Mihalka arrested the 11th man, Joseph Velasquez, 35, in his Aurora barber shop, on charges of promoting a lottery.

Those arrested in Chicago were charged with gambling and promoting a lottery. Each was released in bond for appearance Jan. 29 in Rackets court.

The Chicago arrests were made on warrants issued by Judge Alfonse Wells of Circuit court.

On January 17, 1968, the following article appeared in the "Chicago Sun Times" newspaper on page one, column four, of the Four Star Final edition:

Cops Found On Lists For Payoffs In Bolita

By Art Petacque
and Ray Brennan

Payoff lists indicating a regular bribery schedule for certain Chicago policemen turned up in raids on the crime syndicate bolita gambling racket, The Sun-Times learned Tuesday.

Nicknames of the policemen, some of them accompanied by auto license numbers, were turned over to investigators for Deputy Supt. John F. Mulchrone.

Other records confiscated from agents for Mafia gangster Fiorvante (Fefe) Buccieri showed the Latin American gambling game has grown into a major Chicago mob endeavor.

The weekly handle was estimated from incomplete accounting sheets at up to $100,000 a day. With the odds heavily in favor of the racketeers, the profits ran into big money, the figures showed.

Surveillance of top racketeers by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation resulted in evidence to help Chicago police smash the mob which operated across state lines to Indiana and Wisconsin.

And U. S. Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan said a number of those arrested would be prosecuted for the penitentiary offense of failure to purchase $50 federal wagering stamps.

Community leaders of Latin American ethnic groups joined in praising the FBI and Director William J. Duffy and his Police Intelligence Division staff for the bolita crackdown.

A form of lottery similar to Chicago's notorious policy racket, the games flourished for months as a semi-harmless, amateur sport to raise money for clubs and fraternal groups.

Buccieri and other Mafia terrorists took over the relatively new endeavor more than two years ago, in the wake of at least two murders and a number of beatings.

Entrance of Mulchrone into the case recalled his promise to expose and prosecute instances of police bribery whenever he encountered any form of malfeasance.

Discovery of the payoff lists was his first opportunity to carry out the pledge on new disclosures since Supt. James B. Conlisk Jr. appointed him last month as director of the Police Bureau of Inspectional Services.

In direct charge of the inquiry will be Director Raymond Clark of the Police Internal Inspections Division, with Duffy's men providing the evidence.

The lists indicated that underlings recruited by Buccieri to accept bolita wagers at factories, neighborhood taverns, schools and offices were untrained in the syndicate's security measure of using code names or numbers to signify venal policemen.

Some of the policemen were designated by easily identifiable nicknames and license numbers of cars they drove, it was learned.

Named as leaders in the racket were Thomas (Mitch) Yoshii, 44, of 3157 W. Orchard, and Ken Eto, 48, of 1034 Granville, Park Ridge. There were 11 arrests in the immediate Chicago area and a number in Gary and East Chicago, it was reported.

In Yoshii's home, raiders under Sergeants Louis Cantone, Matthew Rodriguez and John Zitek confiscated $10,000, identifying it as a "bolita bank" for payoffs.

On January 18, 1968, the following item appeared in the "Chicago American" newspaper on page six, column eight, of the Green Streak edition:

Suspect in Bolita Racket Arrested

Ken Eto, 46, sought as one of the alleged leaders of the crime syndicate's bolita numbers racket, was arrested on the street today a block from central police headquarters.

Detectives Joseph Papp and Victor Vega of the intelligence unit, seized Eto as he was about to enter a bail bond office in the 1000 block of South State street.

Police had been seeking him since he eluded a roundup of 10 bolita racket suspects Monday. Police at that time searched Eto's home at 1034 Granville av., Park Ridge.

Capt. William Duffy, director of the intelligence division, identified Eto as an aid of Fiore [Fiti] Buccieri, reputed head of bolita operations here. He said Eto helped organize the racket.

Police said Eto would be charged with syndicate gambling and conspiracy to commit syndicate gambling for appearance in South State street court Jan. 29.

DETAILS:

On [redacted] advised that KEN ETO is the owner of "The Beer Joint," which is upstairs over the Golden Eight Ball pool parlor on East Walton Place, Chicago. The pool parlor is also owned by ETO. Source stated ETO has made more money for hoodlum FIORE BUCCIERI with his Bolita gambling operations than any other person. He related that several years ago JOHN "JOHNNY APES" MONTELEONE, worked with ETO in the Bolita operation at Indiana Harbor, East Chicago, Indiana.

[redacted] further advised that at the present time, ETO's bolita operation is going "full blast." He said that every night after midnight KEN ETO can be found in the restaurant just outside Gate Number 1 of the Inland Steel Company at Block and Watling Streets, East Chicago, Indiana. Source stated that there is a bolita drawing held at midnight every night a block or two away from this restaurant, and that ETO is there to pick up the receipts from the bolita operation.

[redacted]
[redacted] had been at the collection station and location for the bolita drawings in East Chicago, Indiana. Source described this location as having a store front with draped windows located on the west side of Guthrie Street at the southwest corner of the first alley north of Michigan Avenue, East Chicago, Indiana. Source said there is a doorman on duty there who will permit only known persons to enter the premises. He stated Bolita runners are streaming in and out of this location all day and night, with the drawing being held at 12:00 midnight.

CG 92-671

He related the profits from the operation are then believed to be taken to a small restaurant near the northwest corner of Watling and Michigan Avenue, where they are apparently turned over to KEN ETO, who can be found in this restaurant every night between midnight and 12:30 a.m. He advised ETO usually comes into the restaurant with a male Puerto Rican who dresses in very loud colored clothes.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

KEN ETO was interviewed on March 6, 1968, at the corner of Walton and Rush. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] He admitted having only an 8th grade education and stated when he was out in Montana he began gambling at an early age and became pretty good at it and was able to make a good living at it. b6 b7C

It is to be noted ETO was observed coming out of Clydes, 44 East Walton, and when questioned concerning this he stated this spot belongs to [REDACTED] who is trying to sell it. He said business was down on the street and attributed this to the burning of McCormick Place.

ETO expressed some concern over the police raid on the Chinese gambling game on South Clark Street recently and felt this was a small group of old Chinese men who never bothered anyone and just wanted to have a little fun. ETO stated gambling flourished a few years ago and his good friend JAMES ALLEGRETTI made a bundle of money from same. He described ALLEGRETTI as a friend of everyone who gave away as much as he received. He stated ALLEGRETTI was never ruthless no matter what has been said about him to the contrary. ETO would not discuss his knowledge of the modlum element further.

The racial situation was discussed with ETO and the possibility of riots in the Chicago area this summer. He also expressed concern over this fact and asked for the agents name and telephone number and stated he would be glad to furnish any information he developed concerning potential riots as he felt this could be an explosive situation this summer.

b7c

ETO and [REDACTED] came to Pocatello, Idaho, in April, 1949, and by confidence game extracted $5,000.00 from a local Japanese [REDACTED] ETO were arrested on February 14, 1950, and both were tried and convicted. [REDACTED] ETO received "an indeterminable term not to exceed 14 years" on October 9, 1950.

On July 16, 1951, by vote of the State Board of Corrections, ETO was granted parole and was released on September 12, 1951.

On October 13, 1952, Board of Corrections granted final release from parole.

No psychological tests located in the file and no persons are available to make inquiry.

The above offense is a felony in the State of Idaho and therefore ETO has been convicted of a felony.

The manner in which the crime was committed was by the use of the old "con game technique," wherein the subject represents that he has a shipment of jewels coming in and wanted an advance to make the transaction and would repay the victim by their efforts immediately.

SOCIAL HISTORY

FAMILY HISTORY: Parents: The father is 65 and was born on the Island of Kusu, Japan. He had a college education in Japan, was a professor of physics before he came to this country when he was about thirty. He has a limited skill in the use of English. In this country he has worked as a truck farmer and gardner, now works for Seabrook Truck Farms, also acts as a minister of the Nazarene Church. He is reported in good health and lives at 1413 State Road, Seabrook, New Jersey in a residence provided by the company for which he works. He has not remarried.

The mother was also born in Kusu, Japan. She was 47 or 50 when she died in 1944, reportedly in a mental hospital in Japan. She worked as a school teacher in addition to her own housework in the home. The subjects says that his mother went back to Japan sixteen years ago, that his parents were separated because of his father's religious fanaticism.

The subject says he left home at the age of thirteen and fourteen, has had very little to do since he left.

PERSONAL HISTORY: Early Development and Family Relationship: Eto is 31 and was born in Stockton, California. He reports that he had to work hard at a very early age. His family was very poor financially. His father was very strict, was a religious fanatic, was a strict believer against all physical pleasures and apparently against all recreation and pleasure in general. The subject says his mother's spirit seemed to be broken during the last few years before she left to go back to Japan when he was thirteen. He says that he left home shortly after his mother went back to Japan, at the age of thirteen or fourteen. He remembers his home life ~~xxx~~ during his childhood as being very unpleasant and unhappy with "all kinds of Hell all the time." After he left home he led a rather vagabond existence, nomadic, working mostly at migrant farm jobs and in a salmon cannery.

Religion: The father is a minister of the Nazarene Church, is now not quite so extreme and fanatical in his religious views as before, is a little more tolerant. The mother was also Nazarene and she was more or less forced to go to services regularly while she lived with the subject's father. Eto says that he also went to services regularly at the Nazarene Church until he reached the age of fourteen. Since then he has not attended any religious services at all. He is uncertain about going to chapel services during the time he is here; he thinks he might go, mostly because of wishing to learn more about religious matters. He has no denominational preference, believes that one church is about as good as another. He believes in God but is uncertain as to whether or not there is a Hereafter.

Education: Eto reports that he started school when he was five and completed the eighth grade at the age of thirteen at the Holliness Evangelist Institute, Del Monte, California. He says he was rather indifferent toward school when he went, secured average marks, passed every year, had no difficulty with any of the school work. He left school when he left home, he reports.

Work: Since 1943, Eto has worked mostly as a dealer and gambler, he reports. Before that he worked in a salmon cannery most of the time, in butchering, washing, etc., mostly in the Spring and Summer seasons. He has also worked as a general farm hand, fry cook, at various types of common labor. He indicates that he would like to attend the prison school during the time he is here and complete as much of high school as he can. He gives his last employment as a dealer for the Oriental Club, also the Adams Club, Denver, Colorado, off and on during the last two years. Also during that time he was self-employed as a gambler, he states. appeared 2/50

Military Service: None claimed.

Recreation: Eto likes to dance, is interested in most of the major sports, likes to go to the movies, swim, shoot pool, play all types of card games including all types of gambling, and read light fiction. His hobby is cooking fancy dishes for himself and his friends. He smokes and reports that he drinks moderately as a social thing, has full control over his drinking, can either take it or leave it alone as he wishes, does not regard drink as being a problem to him.

Marital Status: [REDACTED]

HEALTH: Eto indicates he feels in good health and is physically able to do most types of work without difficulty. He had the usual childhood diseases without complication. He denies the history of venereal infection.

b6
b7c

OFFENSE: Previous Delinquency: Eto claims that he has never been previously arrested before the present offense. The FBI records, however, show that he was arrested for violation of the curfew law on 4-28-42 and on 5-1-42, was sentenced in U. S. District Court in Tacoma, Washington to twelve days in the King County Jail in Seattle.

Present Offense: Inmate Statement: "On April 12, 1950, [REDACTED] and I bought what we thought were fifty cans of opium. We paid $14,000 for it, [REDACTED] but up $4000, and I put up $5000. After we bought it, we found out it was not opium. [REDACTED] made a complaint after he found out the stuff was not good. He thought [REDACTED] and I had deliberately obtained money from him for the stuff that we knew to be no good. That is where the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses comes in. So and I thought it was really opium when we bought it. I pled not guilty on the advice of my lawyer. This took place in Pocatello, Idaho. I immediately left for Chicago after this deal was made. I was brought back to Idaho sometime during March, 1950. [REDACTED]"

[REDACTED] Eto was arrested at Chicago, Illinois on the charge of transporting stolen property on 2-14-50; on 3-6-50, the Federal complaint and charge were dismissed, and Eto was released to the custody of the local authorities of Pocatello, Idaho. Eto was found guilty by the verdict of the jury on 10-9-50. He has been in continuous custody since his arrest in Chicago on 2-14-50. Eto says he was influenced to go into the illegal transaction supposedly in opium because of his greed and failure to recognize the possible consequences "if anything went wrong." He declares that he has learned his lesson, is never again going to take such a chance of losing his freedom.

Report of Sentencing Judge: "Eto with [redacted] came to Pocatello in April, 1949, and by confidence game extracted $5,000.00 from a local Japanese, [redacted]"

Report of Prosecuting Attorney: "This subject, together with two others, defrauded a local man, [redacted] out of the sum of $5000.00, no part of which has been repaid. The manner in which the crime was committed was by the use of the old "con" game technique, wherein the subject represented that he had a shipment of jewels coming in and wanted an advancement in order to make the transaction and would repay the victim by their efforts immediately."

b7c

EVALUATION: Eto is of high normal intelligence (Otis IQ 109, Advanced Form B). There are no gross indications of psychotic involvement. During the interview, Eto was very friendly, outgoing. He was at times frank and revealing and at other times somewhat evasive and non-committal. His story is at variance with the official account. He claims that he did not obtain any money from the "deal" involved in the present offense, but rather was one of the victims. He says, however, that he thought he was engaged in illegal business of buying opium, claims that it was the first time he "got into that sort of racket." The prosecuting attorney reports the "deal" concerned a supposed shipment of jewels, that Eto and two others employed a "con game" technique of obtaining money from a man in Pocatello, Idaho. Eto quite frankly admits that since 1943, he has been engaged in various gambling activities, has worked as a dealer and gambler for various clubs, and has also engaged in private gambling, mostly at cards, in making a living for himself and his family. He asserts that he was influenced to go into the illegal transaction supposedly in opium because of his greed for easy money and because of his failure to recognize the possible consequences "if anything went wrong." He declares that he has learned his lesson, is never again going to take such a chance of losing his freedom.

Prognosis is considered favorable. Further delinquency involvement does not appear to be indicated, following his release from custody.
